About IPHS:

The Indian Institute of Public Health Shillong (IIPH-Shillong) is a northeast regional institute of public health. It was established in 2015 by the PHFI in collaboration with the Government of Meghalaya to redress the limited institutional and systems capacity in public health in the North East Region of India. IIPH-Shillong is an autonomous educational & research institute of the IIPH Shillong Society, registered under the Meghalaya Society registration Act of 1983.

Project Title and Brief

“Margins of Access: Lived Experiences of Women Vendors to Access Water, Sanitation and Hygiene (WaSH) in Street Situations of North-eastern India.” funded by Indian Council of Social Science Research – ICSSR, New Delhi. The study aims to document the lived experiences of women and men street vendors in accessing toilets and WaSH facilities across Northeastern India. The objectives include:

- i. Examining gender differences in WaSH access experiences
- ii. Documenting WaSH-related health issues among vendors in Assam and Nagaland
- iii. Assessing economic losses related to WaSH in street situations

The study will involve extensive field-based qualitative and quantitative data collection in Guwahati (Assam). IIPHS invites applications for Field Investigator positions to support data collection activities.
