Indian Institute of Public Health
Shillong, Northeast Region

Position Title	:	Faculty – Social and Behavioral science
Location	:	IIPH Shillong, Meghalaya
Duration of Position	:	One Year, renewable

Functional Brief:

The Indian Institute of Public Health Shillong is envisioned as hubs of teaching, research, collaboration and advocacy in the evolving multidisciplinary field of public health. The IIPH-Shillong was established in collaboration with the Government of Meghalaya (GoM) by the PHFI in 2015. IIPH Shillong as of 2020, is an autonomous entity of the Indian Institute of Public Health Shillong Society registered under the Meghalaya Societies Registration Act of 1983.

The institute aims to redress the limited institutional and systems capacity in public health in the northeast region of India. The northeast region of India is largely populated by ST or indigenous peoples. The region is poorly developed and many areas have poor health indices. IIPHS aims to improve health outcomes in the region through educational, research, training, policy and advocacy activities. The mandate of IIPHS include capacity strengthening and improving health outcomes through engagement in research, education, training, policy and advocacy activities that is relevant to the region and the country.

Deliverables:

- Teaching Public Health, especially pertaining to social and behavioral science related topics
- Undertake teaching for on-campus and eLearning programs.
- Assess and monitor student performance across modules for on-campus and eLearning programs.
- Mentor students and guide student dissertations and internship activities.
- Design teaching-learning material to support student learning.
- Lead and participate in short term trainings.
- Participate and contribute in research activities
- Mentoring students in course work including their research project
- Conduct need based trainings on various public health topics
- Take up relevant research, develop research proposals and lead grants
- Advocacy with related stakeholders
- Partnership and collaboration with various organizations
- Should publish in peer-reviewed journals
- Should work closely with Government, be able to liaise with Government and multiple stakeholders, whenever required
- Development of Educational Material and other academic support activities
- Any other tasks as and activities as and when required by the institute.

Qualification:

Essential

- Ph. D in Social sciences/Public health/with relevant experience/medical anthropology/ related field of Social Sciences and public health
- Equivalent degrees with relevant experience

Desirable
- Lead large grants, have funded projects, teaching experience and curriculum development

---

Experience:

Essential

- Relevant research experience in public health and mentorship
- 3- 5 years of teaching experience post PhD

Desirable

- Expertise in using statistical software and or qualitative software will be an advantage.

Only shortlisted candidates will be contacted for the interview.

- Interested and eligible candidates may send detailed CV at iiph.shillong.ner@gmail.com Please highlight the exact Position "Faculty – Social and behavioral sciences" in the subject.
- Preference will be given to candidates from north-eastern region.
- Annual Salary (CTC) will commensurate with available skills and fitment of the incumbent as per the selection process.

> Last Date of Receipt of Applications: 8th November, 2021

Your CV should provide the following in a word document, preferably in the following order:
1. Full Name, address and contract details (including email and phone)
2. Educational qualifications – Diploma/degree/s, year and institute qualified from
3. Language skills (spoken, written skills), Software skills
4. Work experience (position/job title, organization, duration) if none please state NIL
5. Research experience and Publications (if any)
6. Referees (two persons who you have worked or trained under)
7. Any other relevant information